A slowing economy during the past year didn't deter general contractors, architecture and engineering firms, and developers from dusting off their best projects completed in 2008 for consideration in the Daily Journal of Commerce's annual Top Projects competition.

This year's preliminary judging resulted in 81 projects being selected to move on in the competition as finalists.

Finalists will be judged by a panel of professionals from the local built-environment community. Judging criteria includes scope of work, challenges and obstacles, budget and schedule considerations, and quality.

Category winners and the overall winner, as well as Most Valuable Subcontractor Awards, will be announced at the Top Projects awards reception, April 30, from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m., at the Governor Hotel in downtown Portland. Registration is required; cost is $65 per person prior to 4 p.m. on April 23, and $75 thereafter.

Registration is available online at www.djctopprojects.com. For more information about the awards event, contact Trish Sternthal at trish.sternthal@djcoregon.com.
